UFC 332
NATALIA SILVA
VS. WANG CONG
WOMEN'S FLYWEIGHT TITLE BOUT
OCTOBER 3, 2026 • SALT LAKE CITY
ANALYSIS
Silva enters with the sharper kicking game, faster footwork and more layered movement. Wang brings direct pressure, clean counters and the power to change moments quickly. Over five rounds, Silva's pace and variety give her more ways to control exchanges.
PREDICTION: NATALIA SILVA
METHOD: DECISION

UFC 332

DEIVESON FIGUEIREDO VS. PAYTON TALBOTT

BANTAMWEIGHT BOUT

ANALYSIS

Figueiredo's experience, timing and submission threats make him dangerous in every phase. Talbott carries the cleaner long-range striking and the fresher pace over extended minutes. If Talbott keeps the fight standing and wins the tempo battle, he can take over late.

PREDICTION: PAYTON TALBOTT | METHOD: TKO

UFC 332

KING GREEN VS. ESTEBAN RIBOVICS

LIGHTWEIGHT BOUT

ANALYSIS

Green's veteran composure and defensive awareness can slow chaotic exchanges. Ribovics brings the younger legs, aggressive output and the sharper combination finishing. If the pace stays high, Ribovics has the edge in volume and impact.

PREDICTION: ESTEBAN RIBOVICS

METHOD: DECISION

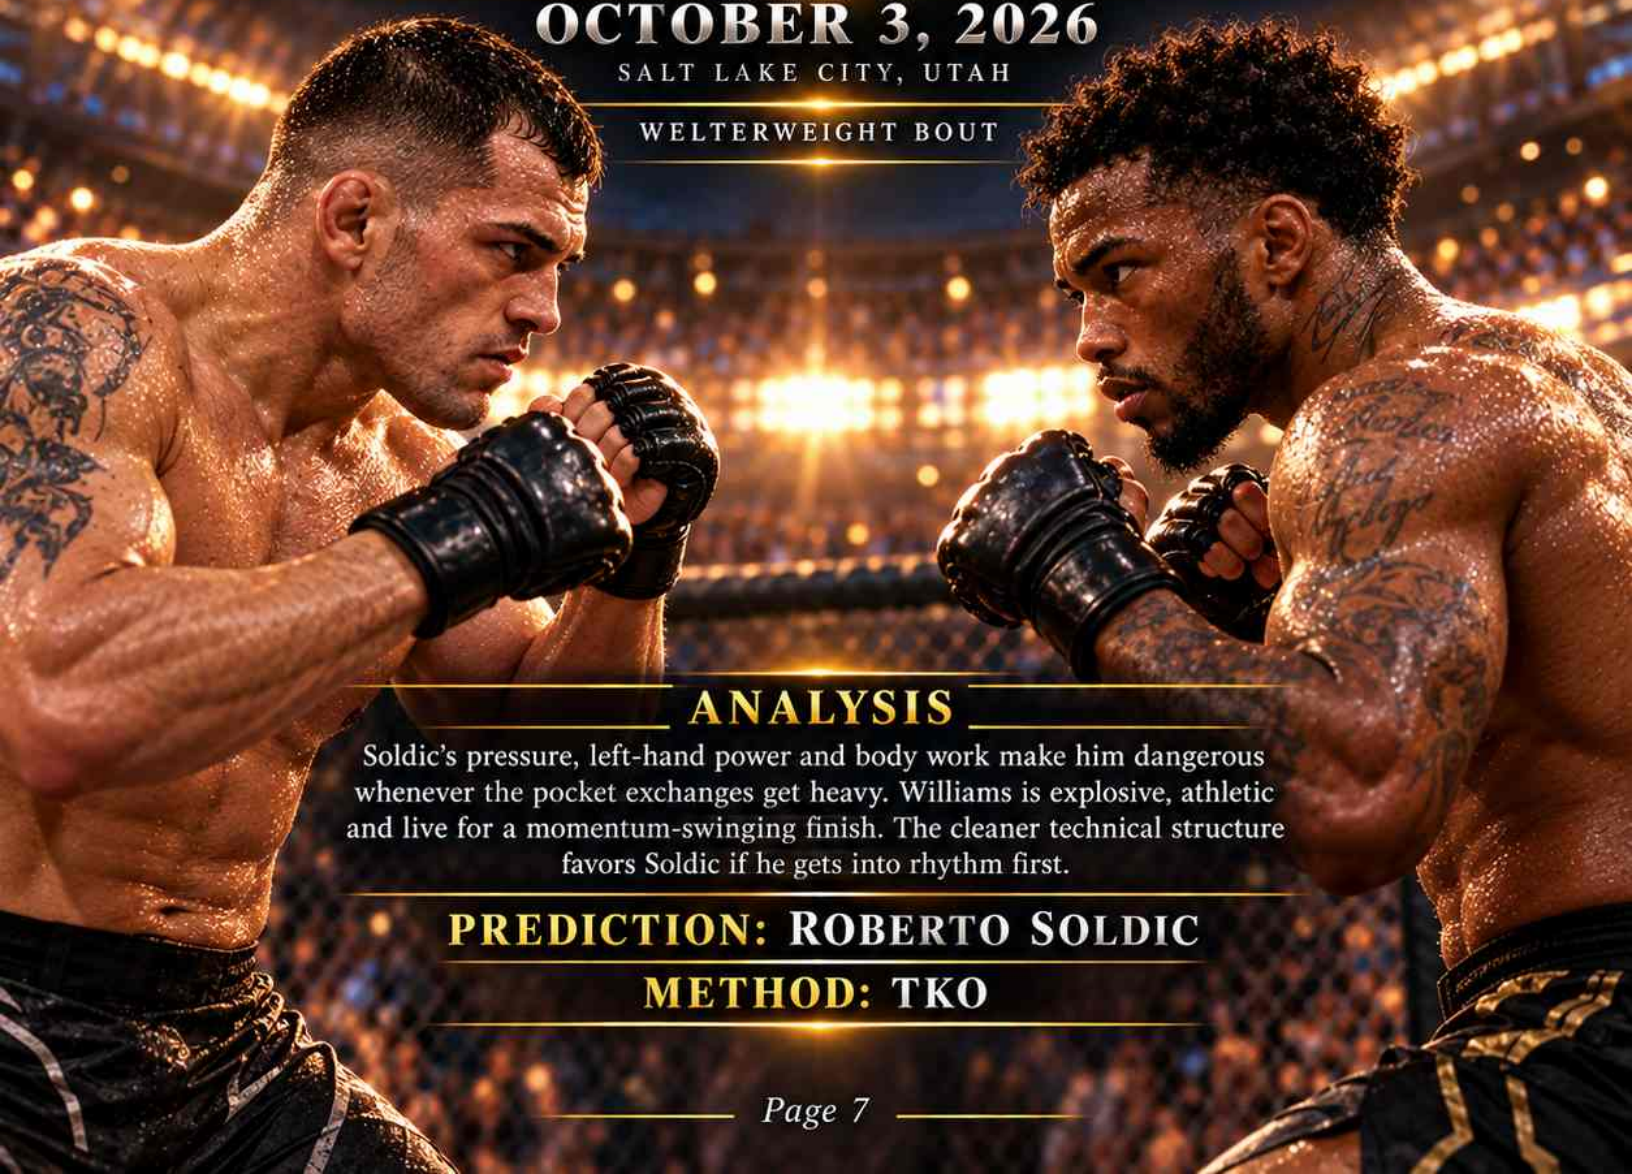
UFC 332

ROBERTO SOLDIC vs. KHAOS WILLIAMS

OCTOBER 3, 2026

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH

WELTERWEIGHT BOUT



ANALYSIS

Soldic's pressure, left-hand power and body work make him dangerous whenever the pocket exchanges get heavy. Williams is explosive, athletic and live for a momentum-swinging finish. The cleaner technical structure favors Soldic if he gets into rhythm first.

PREDICTION: ROBERTO SOLDIC

METHOD: TKO

UFC 332

ATEBA GAUTIER vs. ROMAN KOPYLOV

MIDDLEWEIGHT BOUT

ANALYSIS

Gautier carries physicality and burst, but Kopylov's kickboxing craft and shot selection can shape the rhythm of the fight. If Kopylov maintains distance and lands clean to the body and head, he can break momentum over time. The matchup leans toward the more polished striker.

PREDICTION: ROMAN KOPYLOV

METHOD: TKO

UFC 332

IMANOL RODRIGUEZ VS. ALDEN CORIA

FLYWEIGHT BOUT

ANALYSIS

Rodriguez looks built for a technical pace, using speed and cleaner transitions between striking and scrambling. Coria's route is to disrupt rhythm and force rough exchanges. Over three rounds, Rodriguez appears more likely to bank minutes with discipline and control.

PREDICTION: IMANOL RODRIGUEZ | METHOD: DECISION

UFC 332

PINAS VS. PULYAEV

MIDDLEWEIGHT BOUT

ANALYSIS

Pinas has the athletic tools to make the fight competitive early, but Pulyaev projects as the steadier minute-winner across longer stretches. If Pulyaev controls range and avoids extended wild exchanges, he can stack rounds with cleaner work. The matchup leans toward a composed performance rather than a brawl.

PREDICTION: ANDREY PULYAEV

METHOD: DECISION

UFC 332

MARCUS McGHEE VS. BENARDO SOPAJ

BANTAMWEIGHT BOUT

OCTOBER 3, 2026 • SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH

ANALYSIS

McGhee brings sharper entries, cleaner boxing and a steadier pace over three rounds. Sopaj is dangerous in scrambles and can threaten if exchanges get messy, but McGhee looks better equipped to control range and momentum.

PREDICTION: MARCUS MCGHEE

METHOD: DECISION

UFC 332

ANTHONY WINT VS. LUCAS ARMAND

OCTOBER 3, 2026

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH

ANALYSIS

Wint has the stronger physical presence and a direct pressure game that can push exchanges into uncomfortable territory. Armand's cleaner technique gives him chances early, but if Wint keeps him backing up, the fight can swing on damage and cage control.

PREDICTION: ANTHONY WINT
METHOD: TKO

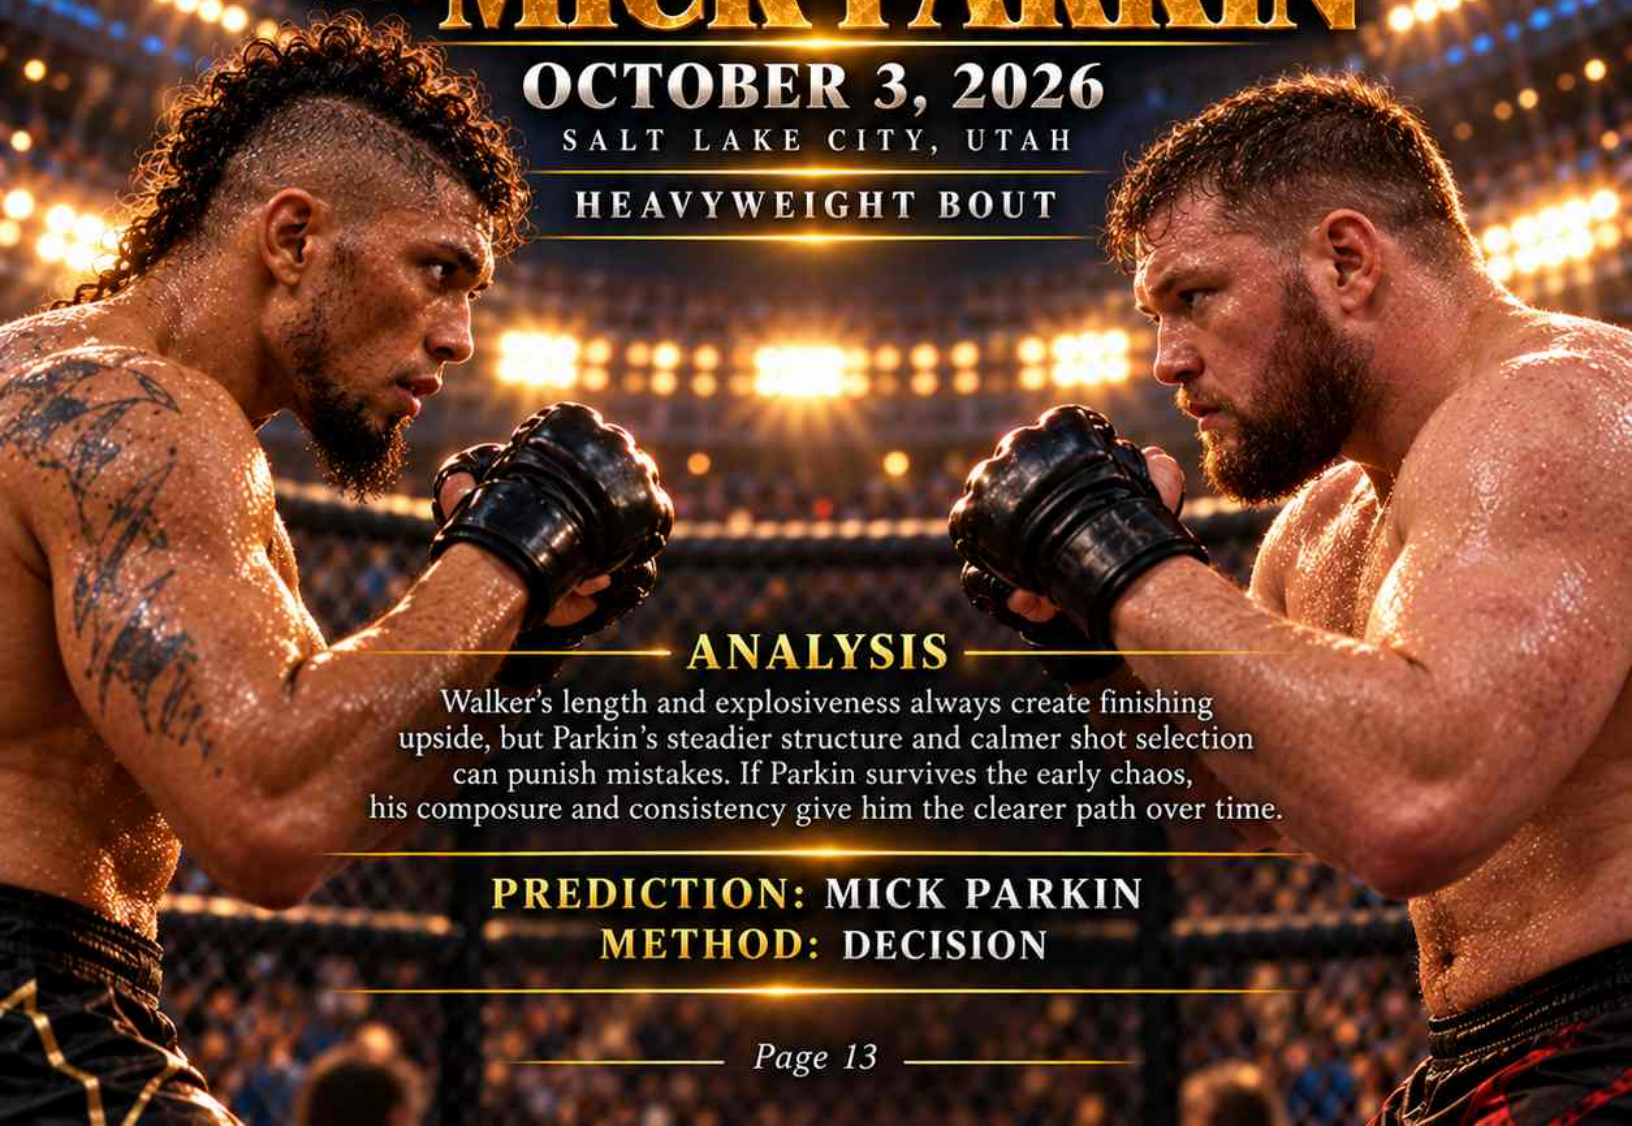
UFC 332

JOHNNY WALKER VS. MICK PARKIN

OCTOBER 3, 2026

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH

HEAVYWEIGHT BOUT



ANALYSIS

Walker's length and explosiveness always create finishing upside, but Parkin's steadier structure and calmer shot selection can punish mistakes. If Parkin survives the early chaos, his composure and consistency give him the clearer path over time.

PREDICTION: MICK PARKIN

UFC 332

RAFAEL DOS ANJOS VS. ALEXANDER HERNANDEZ

OCTOBER 3, 2026

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH

ANALYSIS

Dos Anjos still brings veteran craft, layered combinations and a grappling game that can shift rounds late. Hernandez has speed and bursts, but the safer read is the more experienced fighter banking minutes with cleaner decision-making.

PREDICTION: RAFAEL DOS ANJOS
METHOD: DECISION

UFC 332

MARVIN VETTORI VS. ISMAIL NAURDIEV

OCTOBER 3, 2026

SALT LAKE CITY

ANALYSIS

Vettori's durability, output and pressure make him a difficult puzzle across three rounds. Naurdiev has speed and moments of sharp offense, but Vettori usually wins when he forces a high-workrate fight and stays disciplined in the pocket.

PREDICTION: MARVIN VETTORI
METHOD: DECISION

UFC 332

COURT McGEE VS. ERIC NOLAN

WELTERWEIGHT BOUT

ANALYSIS

McGee’s grit, pressure and veteran pacing can keep the fight competitive. Nolan projects as the fresher athlete with more finishing pop; if he controls distance and lands first, he has the clearer route to separate himself on damage.

PREDICTION: ERIC NOLAN
