

DIGITAL WORLD PULSE

UEFA NATIONS LEAGUE PREDICTIONS 2026

MATCHDAY 5 | NOVEMBER 12-14

ALL 26 MATCH PREVIEWS | ALL FOUR LEAGUES

RESEARCHED NOVEMBER 2, 2026 | FORM THROUGH MATCHDAY 4

Independent Digital World Pulse Nations League preview

Research snapshot: November 2, 2026

DIGITAL WORLD PULSE

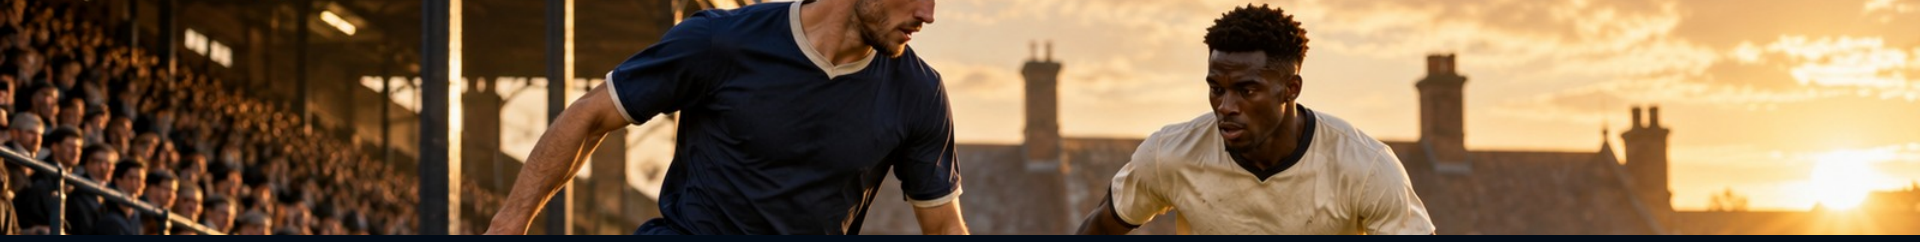
CONTENTS

November 12-14, 2026 | Eight League A spotlights + eighteen paired previews

03	Türkiye v Belgium
04	Italy v France
05	Czechia v Spain
06	England v Croatia
07	Netherlands v Greece
08	Serbia v Germany
09	Norway v Wales
10	Portugal v Denmark
11	Scotland v North Macedonia / Slovenia v Switzerland
12	Georgia v Hungary / N. Ireland v Ukraine
13	Kosovo v Israel / Austria v Rep. Ireland
14	Romania v Poland / Sweden v Bosnia-Herz.
15	Albania v Finland / San Marino v Belarus
16	Armenia v Cyprus / Montenegro v Latvia
17	Moldova v Kazakhstan / Slovakia v Faroe Islands
18	Bulgaria v Iceland / Luxembourg v Estonia
19	Andorra v Gibraltar / Liechtenstein v Azerbaijan
20	Sources, Method & Disclaimer

HOW TO READ THIS GUIDE

All 26 fixtures. Home team first; 90 minutes plus added time. GMT/CET/EST/PST clocks use each match date. Form runs through Matchday 4. Research: November 2; check final squads and disciplinary updates.



TÜRKIYE VS BELGIUM

Group A1 | Thursday, November 12, 2026

Belgium enter the round with six points, Türkiye with none. The first meeting ended 3-0 to Belgium. The visitors' latest 4-1 defeat in France is a reason to keep the margin modest, while Türkiye need a meaningful response after four group losses.

KICKOFF: USA & EUROPE

USA Eastern (EST)	USA Pacific (PST)	UK (GMT)	Central Europe (CET)
Thu, Nov 12 12:00	Thu, Nov 12 09:00	Thu, Nov 12 17:00	Thu, Nov 12 18:00

NATIONS LEAGUE BASELINE: THROUGH MATCHDAY 4

Türkiye: 0 pts from 4 games, goals 2-11. Belgium: 6 pts from 4 games, goals 6-5.

WHY THIS FORECAST

Belgium get the away lean because they have already won this matchup and also won 2-0 in Italy. Their useful route is controlled possession followed by accurate entries into the box, rather than trying to trade attacks. Türkiye have conceded eleven goals in four games, making repeated Belgian pressure a plausible source of a decisive chance.

WHAT COULD OVERTURN THE PICK

Türkiye can reverse the forecast if the home setting improves their first contacts and they keep the opening phase level. Belgium's two defeats to France show that their defense can be stretched. A Türkiye goal from a turnover or set piece would make the away selection much less comfortable. Current squad fitness matters after the long gap since October.

90-MINUTE PICK & PROJECTED SCORE

BELGIUM WIN | Türkiye 1 - Belgium 2
Conviction: Moderate. The score is a forecast, not a result.

Watch Türkiye's early defensive spacing; Belgium's six points do not justify assuming a wide away win.

Sources: [1] [2] [3] [4] [6]

Research snapshot: November 2, 2026

ITALY VS FRANCE

Group A1 | Thursday, November 12, 2026

France lead the pre-round A1 table on ten points, with Italy on seven and Belgium on six. The sides drew 1-1 in France. Italy then beat Türkiye 3-1, while France defeated Belgium 4-1. This is a close forecast between an unbeaten visitor and a host under table pressure.

KICKOFF: USA & EUROPE

USA Eastern (EST)	USA Pacific (PST)	UK (GMT)	Central Europe (CET)
Thu, Nov 12 14:45	Thu, Nov 12 11:45	Thu, Nov 12 19:45	Thu, Nov 12 20:45

NATIONS LEAGUE BASELINE: THROUGH MATCHDAY 4

Italy: 7 pts from 4 games, goals 8-5. France: 10 pts from 4 games, goals 7-2.

WHY THIS FORECAST

The draw balances France's stronger defensive return against Italy's home setting and the level first meeting. France have conceded only twice in four games, including clean-sheet away wins in Türkiye and Belgium. Italy need possession that moves the visiting defense rather than simply increasing their pass count. A patient, low-margin contest is a credible starting scenario.

WHAT COULD OVERTURN THE PICK

France can force an away win if their attacking changes create the same useful pressure seen against Belgium. Italy's winning route is to take an early chance and prevent the visitors from choosing the tempo. The earlier Türkiye-Belgium result could alter the pressure around second place, so the pre-round points should not be read as a live table.

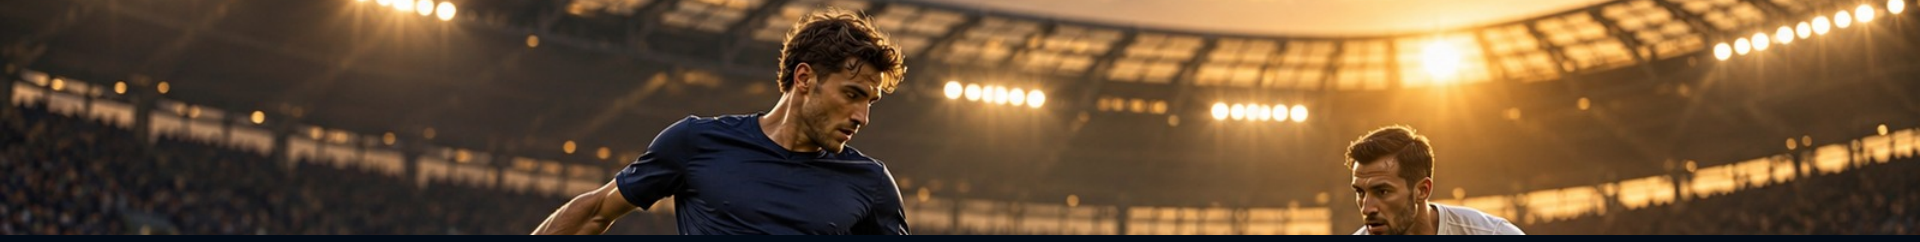
90-MINUTE PICK & PROJECTED SCORE

DRAW | Italy 1 - France 1
Conviction: Low. The score is a forecast, not a result.

Reassess the group context after the earlier Türkiye-Belgium match; the prediction is based on Matchday 4 standings.

Sources: [1] [2] [3] [4] [7] [24]

Research snapshot: November 2, 2026



CZECHIA VS SPAIN

Group A3 | Thursday, November 12, 2026

Spain have twelve points from four wins and a quarter-final place already secured. Czechia have lost all four group matches, including a 3-1 defeat in Spain. The visitors remain the clear winner lean, with their eventual squad and starting lineup important to the size of the advantage.

KICKOFF: USA & EUROPE

USA Eastern (EST)	USA Pacific (PST)	UK (GMT)	Central Europe (CET)
Thu, Nov 12 14:45	Thu, Nov 12 11:45	Thu, Nov 12 19:45	Thu, Nov 12 20:45

NATIONS LEAGUE BASELINE: THROUGH MATCHDAY 4

Czechia: 0 pts from 4 games, goals 2-10. Spain: 12 pts from 4 games, goals 12-5.

WHY THIS FORECAST

Spain's twelve goals across four games support an away scoring edge, while Czechia have scored only twice. The visitors need to make their possession produce entries into the area without leaving easy counterattacks behind them. A controlled two-goal win is more defensible than projecting an exceptional score simply because the points gap is large.

WHAT COULD OVERTURN THE PICK

Czechia can challenge the call by defending the first phase well and making Spain work through an organised block. Qualification already being secured makes the confirmed visiting lineup especially relevant; the October structure may not carry over unchanged. An early Czech goal would force the visitors into a different game and reduce the value of the clean-sheet projection.

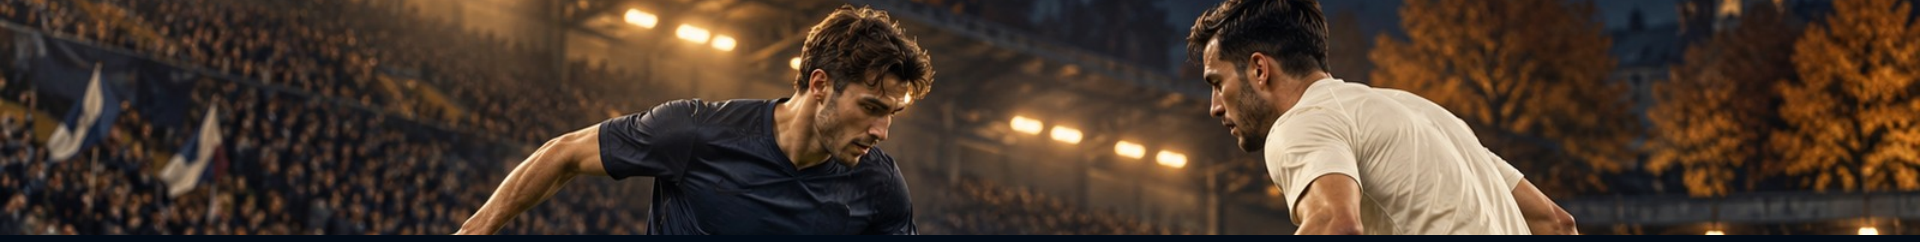
90-MINUTE PICK & PROJECTED SCORE

SPAIN WIN | Czechia 0 - Spain 2
Conviction: Moderate. The score is a forecast, not a result.

Check Spain's confirmed lineup and current fitness after the club schedule; qualification does not determine the starting team.

Sources: [1] [2] [3] [4] [5] [8] [24]

Research snapshot: November 2, 2026



ENGLAND VS CROATIA

Group A3 | Thursday, November 12, 2026

England have nine points, Croatia three. The first meeting finished 7-0 to England, followed by another England clean-sheet win against Czechia. Croatia's Ivan Perisic is excluded from this forecast under the reported one-game suspension following his dismissal against Spain.

KICKOFF: USA & EUROPE

USA Eastern (EST)	USA Pacific (PST)	UK (GMT)	Central Europe (CET)
Thu, Nov 12 14:45	Thu, Nov 12 11:45	Thu, Nov 12 19:45	Thu, Nov 12 20:45

NATIONS LEAGUE BASELINE: THROUGH MATCHDAY 4

England: 9 pts from 4 games, goals 14-3. Croatia: 3 pts from 4 games, goals 4-14.

WHY THIS FORECAST

England get the strongest home lean among these League A previews. They have scored fourteen group goals and recorded three consecutive clean sheets, giving the forecast both an attacking and defensive foundation. The practical route is to sustain pressure without making the home defensive line vulnerable to the first direct Croatian pass.

WHAT COULD OVERTURN THE PICK

Croatia's route is a much more controlled opening phase and a match that stays level long enough to create pressure on the hosts. The previous seven-goal defeat is evidence of what went wrong, not a normal score to repeat. England still need to finish good chances, while Croatia's final replacements and attacking shape require a fresh team-sheet check.

90-MINUTE PICK & PROJECTED SCORE

ENGLAND WIN | England 3 - Croatia 0
Conviction: Stronger lean. The score is a forecast, not a result.

Perisic is excluded under the reported ban. The 3-0 score is an editorial scenario, not a repeat-result assumption.

Sources: [1] [2] [3] [4] [9] [24] [29]

Research snapshot: November 2, 2026

NETHERLANDS VS GREECE

Group A2 | Friday, November 13, 2026

Both sides are unbeaten on eight points, with Germany on five behind them. Their first meeting ended 2-2. The Netherlands then beat Serbia 2-1, while Greece held Germany 0-0. This is a genuine meeting of group leaders rather than a comfortable home-favourite selection.

KICKOFF: USA & EUROPE

USA Eastern (EST)	USA Pacific (PST)	UK (GMT)	Central Europe (CET)
Fri, Nov 13 14:45	Fri, Nov 13 11:45	Fri, Nov 13 19:45	Fri, Nov 13 20:45

NATIONS LEAGUE BASELINE: THROUGH MATCHDAY 4

Netherlands: 8 pts from 4 games, goals 7-5. Greece: 8 pts from 4 games, goals 5-3.

WHY THIS FORECAST

The draw balances the Netherlands' home setting with Greece's defensive record and unbeaten start. Greece have conceded three goals in four matches, while the Dutch have scored seven and conceded five. The home side need useful width and accurate entries into the box; repeated possession without a change of angle would suit the visitors.

WHAT COULD OVERTURN THE PICK

The Netherlands can win if their attacking pressure creates enough clean chances before Greece settle into the match. Greece have already won away against Serbia and Germany, so their counterargument extends beyond simply defending for a point. An early goal for either side could make this more open than our 1-1 projection. The qualitative conviction therefore remains low.

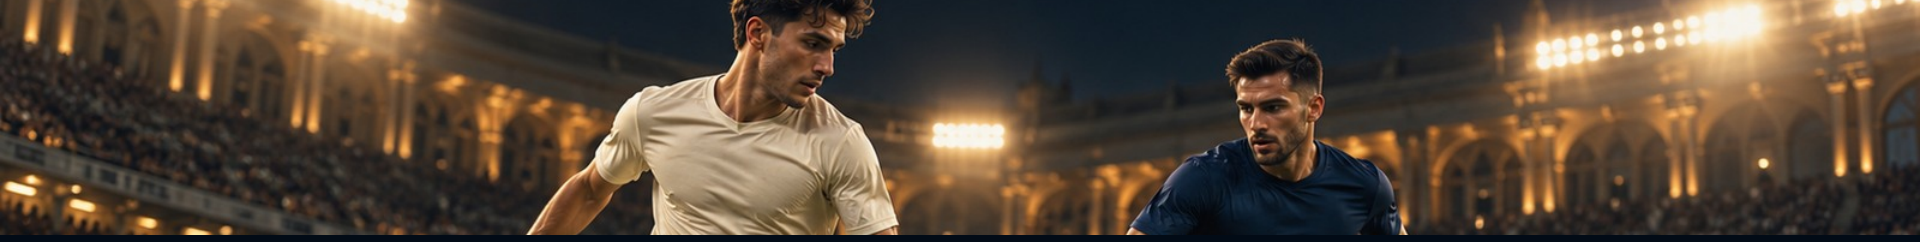
90-MINUTE PICK & PROJECTED SCORE

DRAW | Netherlands 1 - Greece 1
Conviction: Low. The score is a forecast, not a result.

Both teams start the round on eight points; assess the match itself rather than treating a home win as automatic.

Sources: [1] [2] [3] [4] [10]

Research snapshot: November 2, 2026



SERBIA VS GERMANY

Group A2 | Friday, November 13, 2026

Germany have five points, Serbia none. Germany won the first meeting 2-0 but subsequently drew 0-0 in Greece. Serbia's other three defeats were all by one goal, which supports a cautious away forecast rather than an assumption that another group loss must be heavy.

KICKOFF: USA & EUROPE

USA Eastern (EST)	USA Pacific (PST)	UK (GMT)	Central Europe (CET)
Fri, Nov 13 14:45	Fri, Nov 13 11:45	Fri, Nov 13 19:45	Fri, Nov 13 20:45

NATIONS LEAGUE BASELINE: THROUGH MATCHDAY 4

Serbia: 0 pts from 4 games, goals 3-8. Germany: 5 pts from 4 games, goals 3-2.

WHY THIS FORECAST

Germany get the away lean from the better defensive baseline: two goals conceded in four matches against Serbia's eight. Their own three goals scored mean the selection needs finishing improvement more than it needs an expectation of a goal rush. Patient build-up, secure recovery positions and one well-used chance form the case for a narrow win.

WHAT COULD OVERTURN THE PICK

Serbia can overturn the selection by making home pressure count and forcing Germany to defend repeated second balls. Three close defeats to Greece and the Netherlands show a side that has remained competitive in parts of this group. If Germany again struggle to turn possession into good shots, a draw or a narrow home win is entirely plausible.

90-MINUTE PICK & PROJECTED SCORE

GERMANY WIN | Serbia 0 - Germany 1
Conviction: Moderate. The score is a forecast, not a result.

Germany's low scoring total is the main limit on the away lean; the forecast asks for a small winning margin.

Sources: [1] [2] [3] [4] [11]

Research snapshot: November 2, 2026

NORWAY VS WALES

Group A4 | Saturday, November 14, 2026

Both teams have three points from four games. Wales won the first meeting 2-1, while Norway's latest two defeats to Portugal also finished 2-1. Norway's home setting and higher group scoring total offer a narrow preference, but this is one of the less secure winner calls.

KICKOFF: USA & EUROPE

USA Eastern (EST)	USA Pacific (PST)	UK (GMT)	Central Europe (CET)
Sat, Nov 14 12:00	Sat, Nov 14 09:00	Sat, Nov 14 17:00	Sat, Nov 14 18:00

NATIONS LEAGUE BASELINE: THROUGH MATCHDAY 4

Norway: 3 pts from 4 games, goals 6-8. Wales: 3 pts from 4 games, goals 2-5.

WHY THIS FORECAST

Norway get the small home lean after scoring six group goals to Wales' two. Their challenge is to turn that scoring capacity into a match they can close out, having lost three consecutive games by one goal. Better protection around attacking turnovers would make the home pressure more useful and reduce the number of recovery runs needed.

WHAT COULD OVERTURN THE PICK

Wales have a direct winning reference from the reverse fixture and can repeat it if their defensive spacing frustrates the hosts. Norway have conceded eight goals, leaving room for a counterattack or set piece to matter. If Wales keep the match level into the closing phase, the burden on Norway to turn home possession into a result will increase.

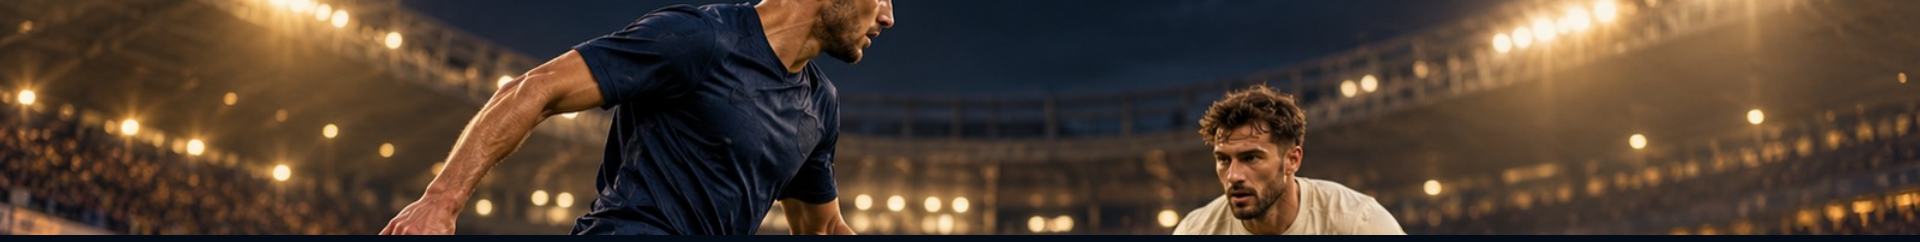
90-MINUTE PICK & PROJECTED SCORE

NORWAY WIN | Norway 2 - Wales 1
Conviction: Low. The score is a forecast, not a result.

Wales won the reverse fixture. Norway's home lean remains low conviction despite the stronger scoring total.

Sources: [1] [2] [3] [4] [12]

Research snapshot: November 2, 2026



PORTUGAL VS DENMARK

Group A4 | Saturday, November 14, 2026

Portugal have twelve points and a quarter-final place secured; Denmark have six. Portugal won 4-2 in Denmark. Joao Cancelo and Francisco Conceicao are excluded from this baseline under reported suspensions, with any successful appeal or later official ruling taking precedence.

KICKOFF: USA & EUROPE

USA Eastern (EST)	USA Pacific (PST)	UK (GMT)	Central Europe (CET)
Sat, Nov 14 14:45	Sat, Nov 14 11:45	Sat, Nov 14 19:45	Sat, Nov 14 20:45

NATIONS LEAGUE BASELINE: THROUGH MATCHDAY 4

Portugal: 12 pts from 4 games, goals 9-4. Denmark: 6 pts from 4 games, goals 7-7.

WHY THIS FORECAST

Portugal remain the home lean after four wins, but the expected changes require a measured margin. They have scored nine group goals and conceded four, while Denmark have scored and conceded seven. The hosts need their selected wide options to retain possession and create useful service rather than assume the first meeting's four goals will recur.

WHAT COULD OVERTURN THE PICK

Denmark can reverse the selection by testing the changed Portuguese combinations and using their own seven-goal attacking return. Qualification already being secured makes Portugal's confirmed lineup especially important. The 2-1 forecast assumes a competitive home team and effective replacements; it should be reviewed if the final selection or fresh availability news weakens that baseline.

90-MINUTE PICK & PROJECTED SCORE

PORTUGAL WIN | Portugal 2 - Denmark 1
Conviction: Moderate. The score is a forecast, not a result.

Cancelo and Conceicao are excluded under reported bans. Confirm official disciplinary updates and the final starting team.

Sources: [1] [2] [3] [4] [13] [24] [30]

Research snapshot: November 2, 2026

LEAGUE B | GROUP B1 | MATCH 09

SCOTLAND VS NORTH MACEDONIA

Fri, Nov 13 | GMT 19:45 | CET 20:45 | EST 14:45 | PST 11:45

Scotland: 4 pts / 4 games | North Macedonia: 0 pts / 4 games

Scotland are the home lean after winning the reverse fixture 2-0. North Macedonia have lost all four games without scoring, while Scotland need a response to their 2-1 defeat by Slovenia. The hosts should keep pressure sustained without offering cheap counterattacks. The visitors can challenge the forecast by staying level through the opening phase and making Scotland create against a compact block. A two-goal home win is the scenario, with the hosts' own modest scoring total limiting confidence in a larger margin.

90-MINUTE EDITORIAL PICK	PROJECTED SCORE (HOME-AWAY)
Scotland win	2 - 0

Conviction: Moderate

Sources: [1] [2] [3] [14] [25]

LEAGUE B | GROUP B1 | MATCH 10

SLOVENIA VS SWITZERLAND

Fri, Nov 13 | GMT 19:45 | CET 20:45 | EST 14:45 | PST 11:45

Slovenia: 7 pts / 4 games | Switzerland: 12 pts / 4 games

Switzerland get the away lean after four wins, eleven goals scored and only one conceded. Slovenia have seven points and won 2-1 in Scotland, so their home challenge deserves respect. The first meeting finished 2-1 to Switzerland, providing a close-game reference rather than a one-sided template. Slovenia can reverse the call if their possession creates good chances before the visitors settle. Switzerland need defensive concentration and efficient finishing to make the stronger group return count in a demanding away setting.

90-MINUTE EDITORIAL PICK	PROJECTED SCORE (HOME-AWAY)
Switzerland win	1 - 2

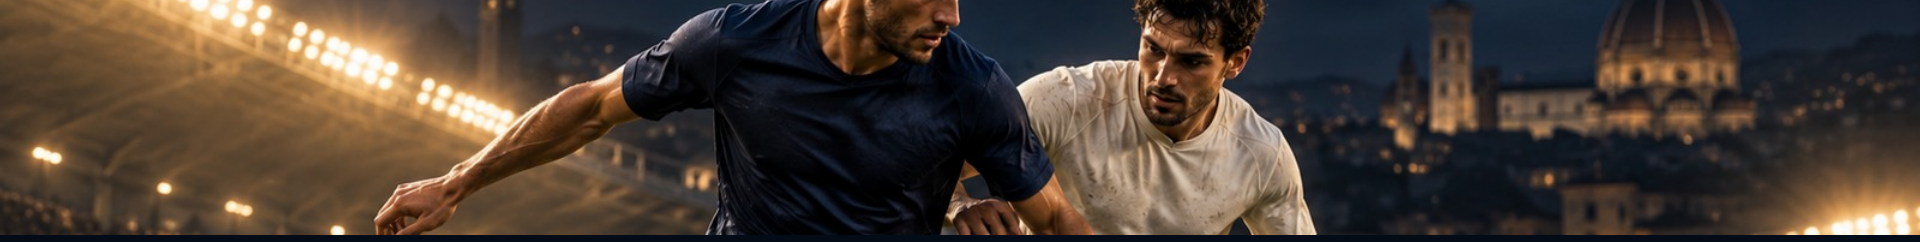
Conviction: Moderate

Sources: [1] [2] [3] [24] [25]



LEAGUE B | GROUP B2 | MATCH 11

GEORGIA VS HUNGARY

Sat, Nov 14 | GMT 17:00 | CET 18:00 | EST 12:00 | PST 09:00

Georgia: 2 pts / 4 games | Hungary: 7 pts / 4 games

Hungary are a narrow away lean after winning the first meeting 1-0. Georgia have yet to score in the group, but their two draws show that they can keep matches close. Hungary's own three goals in four games do not support an expectation of a comfortable margin. Georgia can reverse the call by turning a quiet opening phase into useful home pressure. The visitors need patience and accurate final passes; our one-goal projection rests on the current scoring difference, with limited room for error.

90-MINUTE EDITORIAL PICK	PROJECTED SCORE (HOME-AWAY)
Hungary win	0 - 1

Conviction: Moderate

Sources: [1] [2] [3] [15] [26]

LEAGUE B | GROUP B2 | MATCH 12

NORTHERN IRELAND VS UKRAINE

Sat, Nov 14 | GMT 19:45 | CET 20:45 | EST 14:45 | PST 11:45

N. Ireland: 8 pts / 4 games | Ukraine: 4 pts / 4 games

Northern Ireland get the home lean after an unbeaten four-game start without conceding. The reverse fixture ended 3-0 in their favour, but two home 0-0 draws show why a narrow score is a better starting projection. Ukraine need a defensive response after losing 2-1 to Hungary and must create more useful attacking entries. Their upset route is an early chance that forces the hosts to open up. The forecast favours the home defensive baseline while recognising that their scoring has not been consistently heavy.

90-MINUTE EDITORIAL PICK	PROJECTED SCORE (HOME-AWAY)
N. Ireland win	1 - 0

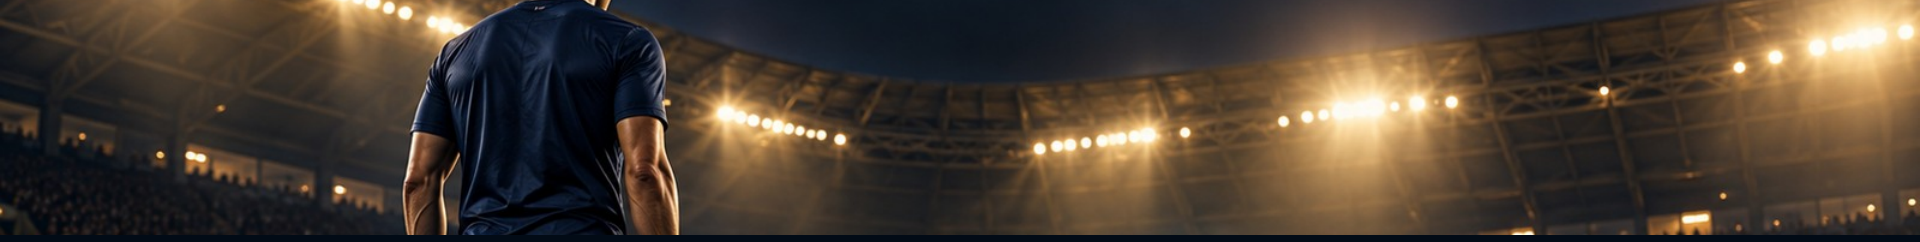
Conviction: Moderate

Sources: [1] [2] [3] [15] [26]



LEAGUE B | GROUP B3 | MATCH 13

KOSOVO VS ISRAEL

Sat, Nov 14 | GMT 14:00 | CET 15:00 | EST 09:00 | PST 06:00

Kosovo: 5 pts / 4 games | Israel: 2 pts / 4 games

Kosovo get a small home lean in a matchup that finished 0-0 in the first meeting. Their three group goals and Israel's two point towards a limited-margin game. Kosovo's five points provide a stronger return than Israel's two, but the hosts still need to turn possession into genuine chances. Israel can reverse the forecast by keeping the opening phase quiet and making one break or set piece decisive. A one-goal home win is our scenario, with a draw remaining a credible alternative.

90-MINUTE EDITORIAL PICK	PROJECTED SCORE (HOME-AWAY)
Kosovo win	1 - 0

Conviction: Low

Sources: [1] [2] [3] [16] [23]

LEAGUE B | GROUP B3 | MATCH 14

AUSTRIA VS REPUBLIC OF IRELAND

Sat, Nov 14 | GMT 19:45 | CET 20:45 | EST 14:45 | PST 11:45

Austria: 8 pts / 4 games | Rep. Ireland: 5 pts / 4 games

Austria are the home lean after an unbeaten start with eight points and nine goals. The Republic of Ireland drew 2-2 with them in the first meeting, so the visitors have a clear attacking counterargument. Austria need to keep their possession useful without making the game an exchange of unprotected breaks. Ireland can overturn the forecast if they force another open contest and finish their best chances. A narrow home win respects both Austria's stronger return and the competitiveness of the reverse fixture.

90-MINUTE EDITORIAL PICK	PROJECTED SCORE (HOME-AWAY)
Austria win	2 - 1

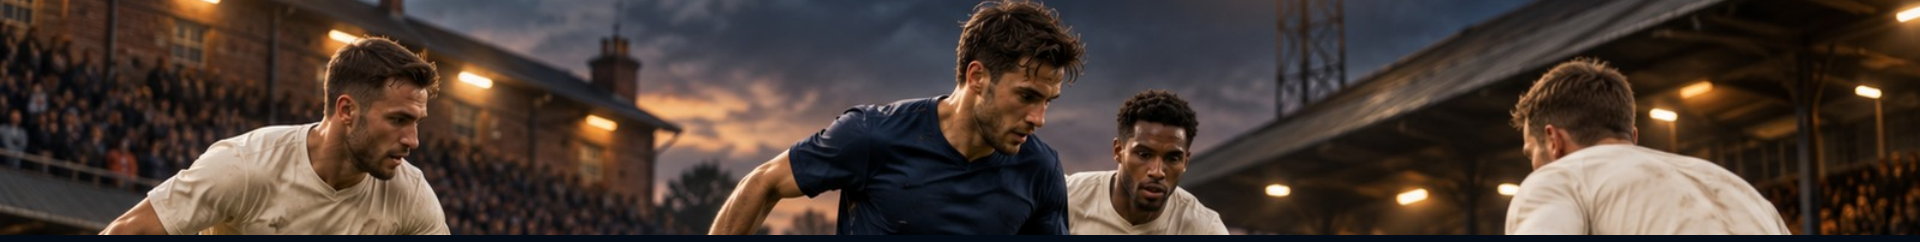
Conviction: Moderate

Sources: [1] [2] [3] [16] [23]



LEAGUE B | GROUP B4 | MATCH 15

ROMANIA VS POLAND

Sat, Nov 14 | GMT 19:45 | CET 20:45 | EST 14:45 | PST 11:45

Romania: 0 pts / 4 games | Poland: 4 pts / 4 games

Poland get the away lean after winning the reverse fixture 6-0, but that score should not become the expected margin. Six of Poland's seven group goals came in that one game, while Romania's latest defeat to Sweden was only 1-0. The hosts need a more secure opening phase and useful possession after regaining the ball. Poland need enough chance quality to avoid a nervous finish. Our narrow away projection respects the direct evidence while keeping the repeat-result risk in view.

90-MINUTE EDITORIAL PICK	PROJECTED SCORE (HOME-AWAY)
Poland win	1 - 2

Conviction: Low

Sources: [1] [2] [3] [17] [24]

LEAGUE B | GROUP B4 | MATCH 16

SWEDEN VS BOSNIA AND HERZEGOVINA

Sat, Nov 14 | GMT 19:45 | CET 20:45 | EST 14:45 | PST 11:45

Sweden: 10 pts / 4 games | Bosnia-Herz.: 8 pts / 4 games

Sweden get the small home lean in a meeting of unbeaten teams. They have ten points, Bosnia and Herzegovina eight, and the first match ended 1-1. Sweden need to turn home pressure into clear chances rather than treat the two-point gap as a decisive advantage. Bosnia can reverse the forecast through disciplined possession and another efficient defensive performance after beating Poland 1-0. A one-goal home win is the scenario, with low conviction because the visitors have not lost in this group.

90-MINUTE EDITORIAL PICK	PROJECTED SCORE (HOME-AWAY)
Sweden win	2 - 1

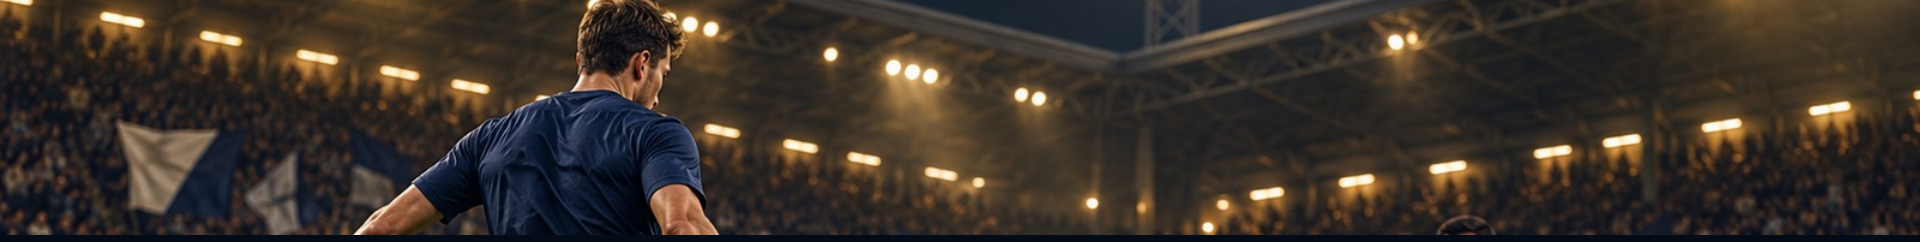
Conviction: Low

Sources: [1] [2] [3] [17] [24]



LEAGUE C | GROUP C1 | MATCH 17

ALBANIA VS FINLAND

Thu, Nov 12 | GMT 19:45 | CET 20:45 | EST 14:45 | PST 11:45

Albania: 9 pts / 4 games | Finland: 7 pts / 4 games

Albania get a narrow home lean, with nine points against Finland's seven. Finland won the reverse fixture 2-1, while Albania's latest 2-1 win over San Marino required a late response. Those references prevent this becoming a strong home call. The hosts need patient pressure and good protection against the first Finnish break. Finland can win if their defensive organisation survives the opening phase and their best chance is used well. Our one-goal projection reflects home advantage within a competitive group comparison.

90-MINUTE EDITORIAL PICK	PROJECTED SCORE (HOME-AWAY)
Albania win	1 - 0

Conviction: Low

Sources: [1] [2] [3] [18] [24]

LEAGUE C | GROUP C1 | MATCH 18

SAN MARINO VS BELARUS

Thu, Nov 12 | GMT 19:45 | CET 20:45 | EST 14:45 | PST 11:45

San Marino: 0 pts / 4 games | Belarus: 7 pts / 4 games

Belarus are the away lean after beating San Marino 4-0 in the first meeting and Finland 1-0 in the latest round. San Marino have conceded sixteen group goals, but their goal against Albania shows why a clean sheet remains an execution task. The visitors need controlled pressure and careful recovery positions rather than assume the early breakthrough will arrive. San Marino can challenge the forecast by making the match slow and protecting the box. The projected margin is smaller than the reverse result.

90-MINUTE EDITORIAL PICK	PROJECTED SCORE (HOME-AWAY)
Belarus win	0 - 2

Conviction: Moderate

Sources: [1] [2] [3] [18] [24]

LEAGUE C | GROUP C2 | MATCH 19

ARMENIA VS CYPRUS

Thu, Nov 12 | GMT 17:00 | CET 18:00 | EST 12:00 | PST 09:00

Armenia: 4 pts / 4 games | Cyprus: 7 pts / 4 games

The draw balances Armenia's home setting against Cyprus' stronger return of seven points to four. Cyprus won the first meeting 2-0, while Armenia then earned a 0-0 draw at Montenegro. The hosts need enough attacking patience to create better chances without reopening their defensive problems. Cyprus can force an away win if their possession repeatedly reaches useful areas behind the first pressure line. A close contest is the starting read, with the reverse result providing a meaningful challenge to the home side.

90-MINUTE EDITORIAL PICK	PROJECTED SCORE (HOME-AWAY)
Draw	1 - 1

Conviction: Low

Sources: [1] [2] [3] [19]

LEAGUE C | GROUP C2 | MATCH 20

MONTENEGRO VS LATVIA

Thu, Nov 12 | GMT 19:45 | CET 20:45 | EST 14:45 | PST 11:45

Montenegro: 10 pts / 4 games | Latvia: 1 pts / 4 games

Montenegro get the home lean after three wins and a draw, while Latvia have one point from four matches. The first meeting ended 2-1 to Montenegro. The hosts need sustained pressure after their latest 0-0 draw with Armenia, rather than rely on the table gap to create chances for them. Latvia can reverse the selection through a disciplined start and a well-used counterattack. A two-goal home win is our scenario, with the clean-sheet element less certain than the basic winner preference.

90-MINUTE EDITORIAL PICK	PROJECTED SCORE (HOME-AWAY)
Montenegro win	2 - 0

Conviction: Moderate

Sources: [1] [2] [3] [19]

LEAGUE C | GROUP C3 | MATCH 21

MOLDOVA VS KAZAKHSTAN

Fri, Nov 13 | GMT 17:00 | CET 18:00 | EST 12:00 | PST 09:00

Moldova: 4 pts / 4 games | Kazakhstan: 2 pts / 4 games

The draw balances Moldova's home setting and 2-1 win in the first meeting against their latest 4-0 defeat by Slovakia. Kazakhstan have only two points but have scored five group goals, compared with Moldova's three. The hosts need a defensive response before they can turn their better points return into a strong winning argument. Kazakhstan can win by making their attacking spells more efficient. A level game is our starting scenario, with both teams needing a cleaner defensive performance than their recent totals suggest.

90-MINUTE EDITORIAL PICK	PROJECTED SCORE (HOME-AWAY)
Draw	1 - 1

Conviction: Low

Sources: [1] [2] [3] [20] [24]

LEAGUE C | GROUP C3 | MATCH 22

SLOVAKIA VS FAROE ISLANDS

Fri, Nov 13 | GMT 19:45 | CET 20:45 | EST 14:45 | PST 11:45

Slovakia: 10 pts / 4 games | Faroe Islands: 4 pts / 4 games

Slovakia are the home lean after ten points and nine goals in four matches, including a 4-0 win at Moldova. The Faroe Islands have drawn all four games, including 1-1 with Slovakia, so the visitors have a strong counterargument to any comfortable-margin forecast. The hosts need patient pressure and careful protection against direct attacks. Another Faroese draw is entirely plausible if the early chances are missed. Our narrow home projection respects both the stronger scoring baseline and the visitors' unbeaten record.

90-MINUTE EDITORIAL PICK	PROJECTED SCORE (HOME-AWAY)
Slovakia win	2 - 1

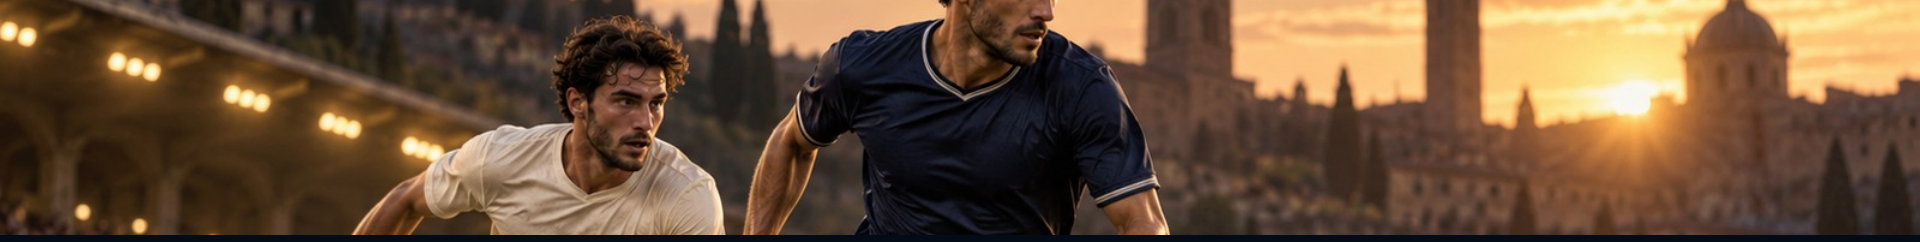
Conviction: Moderate

Sources: [1] [2] [3] [20] [24]



LEAGUE C | GROUP C4 | MATCH 23

BULGARIA VS ICELAND

Fri, Nov 13 | GMT 19:45 | CET 20:45 | EST 14:45 | PST 11:45

Bulgaria: 4 pts / 4 games | Iceland: 8 pts / 4 games

Iceland get the narrow away lean after an unbeaten start with only one goal conceded. They won the first meeting 3-0, but Bulgaria's latest 2-0 win in Luxembourg shows a useful response. The visitors need to preserve their defensive structure while creating enough clear chances to avoid another scoreless draw. Bulgaria can reverse the call by making home pressure count and keeping Iceland's first pass out of defense uncomfortable. A one-goal away win is the scenario, with the margin deliberately restrained.

90-MINUTE EDITORIAL PICK	PROJECTED SCORE (HOME-AWAY)
Iceland win	0 - 1

Conviction: Moderate

Sources: [1] [2] [3] [21] [24] [28]

LEAGUE C | GROUP C4 | MATCH 24

LUXEMBOURG VS ESTONIA

Fri, Nov 13 | GMT 19:45 | CET 20:45 | EST 14:45 | PST 11:45

Luxembourg: 3 pts / 4 games | Estonia: 6 pts / 4 games

Estonia get a small away lean from an unbeaten four-game start with only one goal conceded. Their own two goals scored keep the expected margin small. Luxembourg have lost three consecutive group games without scoring, including 1-0 in Estonia, and need a clearer attacking response at home. They can overturn the forecast by making an early chance count and forcing the visitors to create against a settled block. The away defensive baseline supports the selection, while another low-scoring draw remains plausible.

90-MINUTE EDITORIAL PICK	PROJECTED SCORE (HOME-AWAY)
Estonia win	0 - 1

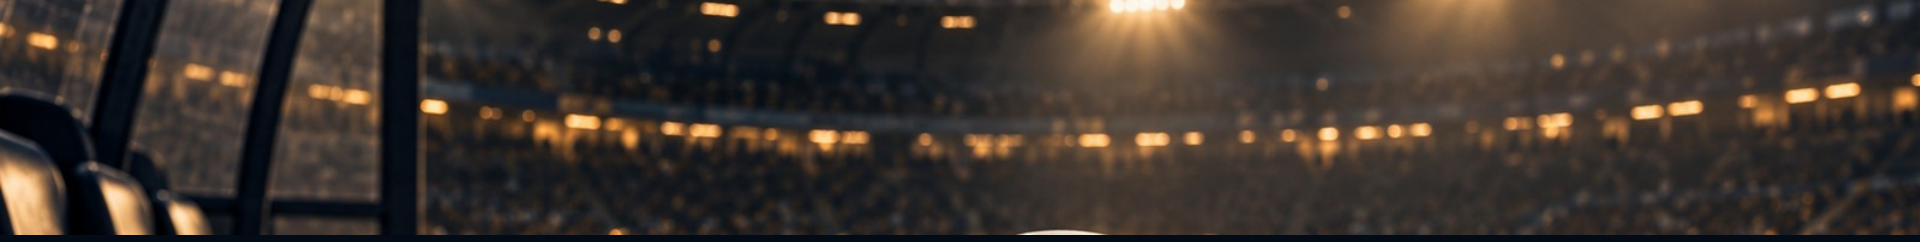
Conviction: Low

Sources: [1] [2] [3] [21] [28]

Independent Digital World Pulse Nations League preview

Research snapshot: November 2, 2026



LEAGUE D | GROUP D1 | MATCH 25

ANDORRA VS GIBRALTAR

Fri, Nov 13 | GMT 19:45 | CET 20:45 | EST 14:45 | PST 11:45

Andorra: 1 pts / 3 games | Gibraltar: 2 pts / 2 games

The draw reflects limited attacking output and the 0-0 first meeting. Andorra have scored once in three group games, Gibraltar once in two; the different match totals matter in this three-team section. The hosts need more useful possession close to the box, while Gibraltar need their away attacks to last long enough to relieve pressure. Either side can win through a well-used set piece or turnover. A scoreless game is an editorial scenario, with low conviction in any exact-score prediction.

90-MINUTE EDITORIAL PICK	PROJECTED SCORE (HOME-AWAY)
Draw	0 - 0

Conviction: Low

Sources: [1] [2] [3] [27]

LEAGUE D | GROUP D2 | MATCH 26

LIECHTENSTEIN VS AZERBAIJAN

Fri, Nov 13 | GMT 19:45 | CET 20:45 | EST 14:45 | PST 11:45

Liechtenstein: 1 pts / 2 games | Azerbaijan: 5 pts / 3 games

Azerbaijan get the away lean after an unbeaten three-game start with five points, two goals scored and one conceded. Liechtenstein have one point from two matches and have yet to score, but they held Azerbaijan 0-0 in the reverse fixture. The visitors need patient chance creation rather than an assumption that the points lead makes this easy. The hosts can reverse the forecast through disciplined defending and one well-used break. Our narrow away projection reflects the modest scoring totals of both sides.

90-MINUTE EDITORIAL PICK	PROJECTED SCORE (HOME-AWAY)
Azerbaijan win	0 - 1

Conviction: Moderate

Sources: [1] [2] [3] [22]

DIGITAL WORLD PULSE

SOURCES & DISCLAIMER

Official fixtures and results, statistical logs and availability reports

[1] UEFA: fixtures and final results
[2] UEFA: official fixture PDF
[3] UEFA: team-by-team results
[4] UEFA: current group standings
[5] UEFA: competition guide
[6] DFB: Türkiye group results
[7] DFB: France group results
[8] DFB: Czechia group results
[9] DFB: England group results
[10] DFB: Greece group results
[11] DFB: Serbia group results
[12] DFB: Norway group results
[13] DFB: Portugal group results
[14] Scottish FA: November fixtures
[15] Ukraine FA: group fixture dates
[16] FBref: Austria match log
[17] Bosnia FA: Sweden first meeting
[18] FBref: Albania match log
[19] DFB: Latvia completed results
[20] FBref: Slovakia match log
[21] FBref: Estonia match log
[22] FBref: Azerbaijan match log
[23] FBref: Republic of Ireland results
[24] UEFA: Matchday 4 round-up
[25] FBref: Scotland match log
[26] FBref: Northern Ireland results
[27] FBref: Andorra match log
[28] FBref: Iceland match log
[29] Sportske: Perisic suspension report
[30] Renascenca: Portugal suspensions

Click source titles to open them. Match titles link to official UEFA fixtures. Kickoff conversions use UEFA schedules; historical results and calculated group totals form the statistical baseline.

METHOD & EDITORIAL DISCLAIMER

Independent Digital World Pulse preview, unaffiliated with UEFA, federations or broadcasters. Research: November 2, 2026. All 26 Matchday 5 fixtures on November 12-14 are covered. League A has eight full-page previews; the remaining eighteen matches are paired.

Group baselines use the first four matchdays, completed by October 6. League D teams have played two or three games at this stage; their match totals are printed explicitly. Squad selection, club injuries, current fitness and final lineups can change the forecast before kickoff. Perisic, Cancelo and Francisco Conceicao are excluded under reported suspensions; official disciplinary updates and any successful appeals take precedence.

Home team and home score come first. Picks cover 90 minutes plus added time. Scores and qualitative conviction are opinions, not results, guarantees, betting odds or calibrated probabilities. GMT/CET/EST/PST clocks all fall on the listed game date. Click match titles for official UEFA fixture pages and numbered references for sources. Illustrations are AI-generated concepts, not match photographs or verified player portraits. For information and entertainment.